Background Material

Annex 6 Key Metrics for the GPFM work areas: The main purpose of the work on energy metrics is to inform Missions and MI community on what is happening in the global innovation landscape in the areas of our interest. For instance, on this occasion the Insights Team have looked into the areas of the GPFM work, and can see which technologies garner the most public and private funding, assess the collective momentum within the Mission to drive innovation agendas, and identify the technology start-ups receiving the most significant investments, among others.
